[Snecial to The Times-Dispatch.]

[BODDON, VA., March 12.—Jim Spencer, the nearo trailed by Branch's bloodhound and arrested for sotting fire to a dwelling on the farm of Mr. James S. Gordon, has been committed to jail to await trial. Spencer was tried about two months ago for burning a stable on Mr. Jim Wilkinson's place, but was acquitted.

[Spencer lived in the house that was burned, and it is said was anxious to move into another house own, Gordon's farm. The day the house was burned Spencer's family was away. The shoe track found at the building was of a peculiar shape, and made a track the rive and of the same peculiar sitaps as the choses worm by Spencer. Other circumstances of a suspicious character pointed to Spencer.

boy if he informed any one that he was seen there he would certainly kill him.

The other negro suspected was trailed to Baskerville Dapot, where it is supposed he successed in making his oscape on the early morning train, but the conductor stated in a telegram that if this was the case he did not get in the coaches, but perhaps succeeded in getting some other place where he was not seen. lim Spencer to Be Tried for Setting Fire to

GAMBLING ON THE TRAIN.

Epencer lived in the house that was burned, and it is said was anxious to move into another house on Mr. Gordon's farm. The didn't the house was burned Spencer's family was away. The shoe track found at the building was of a peculiar shape, and made a track the rive and of the same peculiar sample as the rhoes wore by Spencer. Other circumstances of a suspicious character pointed to Spencer.

It is said that Spencer had been seen leaving the house about ten minutes before the fire was discovered by a boy who also jived with Mr. Gordon. The negre told the of the train ordered the game to be stopped, and when his orders were not obeyed, he threw the cards out of the window.

Two of the men. Charles Odell and Marvin Beck, it is claimed, became ugly, and Odell threatened to shoot the conductor. The men were placed under arrest and when the train reached Roanoke they were turned over to Detective Funk, who brought them to Lynchburg Tuesday night. When the men are allowed to testify here they will be taken back to Christiansburg, where they will be tried on the charge of gambling on the train and threatening the train crow.
